Jun 11, 2021 Commentary

The Home Depot announced stellar fiscal first-quarter (ended May 2nd) results. Sales jumped 33% from a year earlier and 42% from the like fiscal 2019 figure to $37.5 billion, well ahead of our $32.5 billion forecast. Comparable-store sales increased 31.0% year to year. Consumers' seemingly insatiable demand for home improvement projects was on display in the quarter. Americans, many of whom are flush with cash thanks to elevated savings rates during the pandemic and government stimulus checks, remained focused on their homes. Low borrowing costs, rising home prices. Read more »
